Class of '68 50th Reunion Gift:

Support Swarthmore's Goal of Carbon Neutrality by 2035 and the Paris Climate Agreement

Swarthmore College has a long-standing commitment to protecting the environment. In 2010, the College formed the Climate Action Planning Committee and developed a Climate Action Plan which set the ambitious goal of carbon neutrality by 2035 and serving as a leader among other high education institutions in emissions reductions and sustainability. In 2017, President Valerie Smith reaffirmed this commitment by joining other colleges, cities, states, and businesses as a signatory of "We Are Still In," a pledge to deliver concrete emissions reductions that will help meet America's emissions pledge under the Paris Agreement.

The Class of 1968 50th Reunion Gift will support two innovative initiatives that will help Swarthmore achieve carbon neutrality by 2035: the President's Sustainability Research Fellows and the Green Revolving Fund.

President's Sustainability Research Fellows (PSRFs)

Goal: $125,000 (Funded)

This yearlong fellowship offers 10–12 students a unique opportunity to combine classroom learning with hands-on experience working on a high-impact project. Fellows develop leadership, project management, communications, and advocacy skills as well as a deep knowledge of sustainability issues.

The program is a joint venture of the Lang Center for Civic & Social Responsibility, the Office of the President, the Office of Sustainability, and Environmental Studies.

Working in small groups with faculty, staff, and alumni mentors, students research, develop, and implement projects identified by the Office of Sustainability and collaborating offices as priorities for the College. Each May, the students present their final projects to the community, including to the President and senior staff. Students receive two course credits and are paid a stipend for the fellowship.

One initiative implemented by Swarthmore in order to achieve carbon neutrality by 2035 is an internal, college-wide carbon charge established in 2016. This year, Nicholas DiMaio '19 is the President's Sustainability Research Fellow on climate protection and carbon pricing. Working with the Carbon Charge committee and the Office of Sustainability, DiMaio is working to educate the campus community about the carbon charge, develop plans for determining levies on departments for carbon emissions, and research ways the revenue from the carbon charge can be used to support renewables, efficiency, metering, and education projects.

Green Revolving Fund (GRF)

Goal: $125,000

The goal of the Green Revolving Fund is to provide capital to support energy- and cost-saving campus improvements through internal “loans.” At Swarthmore College in 2017, the Stone House Group identified approximately three million dollars in potential energy efficiency investments. The savings realized through these investments will “pay back” the GRF while also helping the College achieve its goal of carbon neutrality by 2035. A Green Revolving Fund can provide an ongoing flow of project funding, and a fully-funded GRF ensures there will always be a source of financing for campus sustainability improvements.

The first project funded by the GRF was an upgrade of all of the lighting in the Lamb-Miller Fieldhouse, Tarble Pavilion, gym, and Athletics offices. As part of this project, Facilities replaced all 300 outdoor metal halide lamps, that consumed 210 watts of energy each, with 45-watt LED lamps. The net savings of 165 watts per lamp will save the College approximately $1,980 a month in electricity costs—savings which are already being reinvested into the Green Revolving Fund to support additional improvement and replacement projects on campus.
